Customer Reviews

James Patterson has written more bestsellers and created more enduring fictional characters than any other novelist writing today. He lives in Florida with his family. Andrew Holmes' first novel, SLEB, was shortlisted for the 2002 WHSmith New Talent Award in the UK. His other novels and nonfiction works have been critically well received in the UK. He lives in the English countryside with his wife and two children.

A very good read, encapsulating excellent background information, interesting character development and a dynamic conclusion. I would be interested in seeing the main character in more difficulties. A five star in my opinion!

I am constantly intrigued with Patterson's ability and confidence in using real expressive language and using it well. This book kept me reading when I had many other things to do that were far more important, to my wife, to have done immediately, than my finishing this wonderful, well written book !

James Patterson's books are usually a hit out of the park and this was no different, It did follow a theme that has been tried and true and repeated in another book shot from last year.

Rich men are on a staged hunt for a prize prey. The stakes are high for the Hunter and the hunted. This is an excellent though scary story. I would hope this scenario would never occur.

It was sooo predictableGoGood luck with the rest of the serieesWas very slow needs better characters sooo much for this book

Lots of action, although some of it was a little impossible. A quick and satisfying read. This is the second of the bookShots I have read. Recommended Polished this off in quick time. Patterson always delivers, full sized book or bookshot, this author never fails to entertain.

An outstanding story. Lots and lots of excitement. Very well written and very entertaining. i could not put it down, i had to finish it.
