God Is Bigger Than The Boogie Man (A VeggieTales Book) (VeggieTales (Candy Cane Press))

Synopsis

Based on the popular VeggieTales song, the characters reassure children that God is bigger than their fears. Imagined monsters and threatening-looking shadows can fill a child's mind with fear, but God is always watching over us. That is the message of this colorful new book, based on the popular VeggieTales song, 'God Is Bigger Than the Boogie Man.' Through simple rhyming words, Bob and Larry reassure Junior Asparagus and young children that when they hear noises at night, they can smile and rest easy, knowing that God is watching out for them. Little ones can push the sound button to hear Larry singing the refrain from the song. And soon children will find themselves singing along as well. Ages 2-5.

Phil Vischer, the co-founder of VeggieTales, made his first animated film when he was nine, and by age fourteen he knew he would become a filmmaker. After a brief time in Bible college, Phil struck out on his own, looking for a way to integrate his faith with his filmmaking. This quest led him to a tomato and a cucumber. Phil's faith-filled VeggieTales stories can be found in a third of all American homes. He lives with his wife, Lisa (aka Junior Asparagus), and their three kids in Illinois. Lisa Reed has been drawing since she was old enough to hold a pencil. She began her career as a graphic artist for a screen print company and has been illustrating books for the past 15 years, including dozens of children's books. Lisa lives in Indiana. Kelly Pulley has been a children's book illustrator for 15 years and has dozens of books published, including the best-selling The Beginner's Bible, which has more than 1.25 million copies in print.
