Hop! Hop! (Leslie Patricelli Board Books)

Synopsis

The inimitable Baby brings a humorous spin to the holidays in in board book fit for Easter baskets. The Easter Bunny is coming! It's time to dye eggs. Did you know that red and blue make purple? That blue and yellow make green? That an art project may result in a multicolored Baby? There are bunny ears to wear (for the dog and cat, too) and an Easter basket to put out before bedtime. What will Baby find inside it the next morning?

Customer Reviews

PreS "This is a charming anticipatory story of Easter through the eyes of a toddler. Patricelli's oval-headed little tyke walks readers through the adventures of dyeing eggs, craft time, and an Easter egg hunt. In the end, his greatest surprise is finding out what Easter really means. Preschoolers will relate to the messy portrayal of the art project. They will also find it humorous when the toddler can't find the many eggs during his hunt, even though they are quite obvious. During storytime, teachers or librarians could ask children to count the eggs available during the hunt and compare that to the number the toddler actually finds. The bald-headed baby, sleeping in bunny ears, cottony tail affixed to his diaper, contrasts with a shadow of the "real" Easter bunny busy leaving goodies by the door. This is illustrative magic. This very short board book includes 13 exclamation points; they are all warranted. VERDICT Preschoolers, parents, teachers, and librarians will be excited to "hop" to Patricelli's latest.â "Gwen Collier, Buffalo and Erie County Public Library, NY

The author pays a little lip service toward education by showing primary colors combining to create secondary colors, but the book's main focus is the exuberance that comes with celebrating the holiday, particularly when the traditions are so new and exciting. The enthusiasm is infectious, and read-alouds will most likely lead to little ones' looking to do some arts and crafts of their very own. As bright and bold as the holiday it celebrates.â "Kirkus ReviewsPreschoolers, parents, teachers, and librarians will be excited to "hop" to Patricelliâ ™s latest.â "School Library Journal

So cute! We love the Patricelli baby and have found these holiday books (Hop! Hop! and Boo! - still need the Christas one) to be the best basic introduction to holidays and their happenings for young kids. They aren't religious, so you'd want a supplement for those elements if you want them to be a part of your kids' experience. What they are is a wonderful starting point for what your kids can expect to do and see in preparing for and celebrating holidays. Awesome!

My son was obsessed with the Christmas book from this author way after Christmas passed so I know I needed to get him the Easter one for his basket. Such a cute book, love the illustrations and very durable! Great for early reading, few words per page to keep their attention!

MY grandson loved this little story. I put it in his Easter basket.

Quick delivery, cute book/story

Leslie Patricelli's art is so charming and funny. I have to smile whenever I see her smiling babies. These are great books for your toddler. We have all her books and they are well-loved in our house.

For my 2 year old boy on Easter. Really like this book

Perfect for easter.

My son LOVES Leslie Patricelli. This is the only book we have by her that he could care less about... and I kind of agree. It isn't that great as the others she has; if this is your first time with her books, I would suggest any of her other books. These books are geared for babies up to about 3 years old. He absolutely loved her "Potty" book, ever since he could crawl, he would go get the book and bring it to us. Her NO NO, YES YES book is really good for little ones too.
