Customer Reviews

Chris Doyle's cruising guides are among the most popular in the Eastern Caribbean. Chris attributes this to listening to his customers when they tell him what they would like to see in a guide, and following their ideas when it makes sense. In this way his guides have always been highly innovative, leading the way in color sketch charts, then computerized color sketch charts, GPS waypoints, star charts and a guide-linked website where people can find corrections, download town maps, download GPS waypoints, access navigational advisories, and get links to down island businesses. Chris was born in England, but as soon as he was finished with college he set sail in an old Colin Archer called Sugar Creek, sailed south until the butter melted, turned right and ended up in Grenada, where he became a resident, and has been so ever since. To make ends meet, he built and rented a house, day-chartered, skippered yachts, and undertook deliveries. One of these nearly turned out badly on an older 38 foot yacht when the rudder shaft sheered some 50 miles west of Saba. However, the owner had some tools on board, and Chris and owner and his party managed to steer the boat for three days by balancing the sails and during that time managed to construct a temporary external rudder, so they could arrive under their own steam. Just as well, as the yacht in question was fitted with one of the early VHF radios, which had not yet arrived down-island, so there was no way to call for help. Chris built his dream boat a few years ago in Trinidad, a 40 foot catamaran called Ti Kanot. He spends well over half the year on board, visiting all the anchorages he has to update, and is well-known in the islands where he is also a yachting correspondent for Caribbean Compass, and he also writes for the international yachting press when asked. For part of the summer he travels, usually to Vermont where he stays with his life-partner Virginia Barlow. Chris Doyle is the author of the following titles: The Cruising Guide to the Northern Leeward Islands The Cruising Guide to the Southern Leeward Islands The Sailors Guide to the Windward Islands The Cruising Guide to Trinidad and Tobago, Plus Barbados and Guyana The Cruising Guide to Venezuela and Bonaire Leeward Anchorages Windward Anchorages

This book is very detailed about navigation and piloting as well as extremely informative about what you will find ashore--even to listing info about the people running the various establishments! The color aerals are also wonderfully helpful. A large chart is included. Yes, lots of ad . . . but these can be helpful also. A Would definitely call this the "Bible of Windward Islands cruising." I also bought "A Cruising Guide to the Windward Islands" for additional info and a larger format for charts and aerals. Both should be aboard your vessel in these waters.

this book along with a couple of other guide books I have are perfect. Doyle does a good job in providing info when you arrive in the areas he covers and Van Sants book gets you there.

A must for sailing in the Windwards. Would never go without it.

Value for money; the right navigation and soling support & additional data

Excellent book for first time cruiser to the windward islands
