Great book! Depending on the pianist, this book would be suitable for a student that is in the level 3A and higher Faber and Faber piano series. The pieces are great and varied, mostly all the same level.

I'm about halfway through this book (playing every piece so far) and I love it! This music is great fun to play and has some good challenges, especially rhythmically. As far as difficulty, I'm working through the second half of Alfred's Adult #2 method book, and I think these pieces are spot on to my level of play.

OK, I'm an old guy trying to learn piano. I heard one of my granddaughters play "7th Street Blues" at her recital and was amazed at how complex the song was at this level of play. I hope I can do it justice.

My dear shweetie got me the whole set (books 1-3) and I couldn't be happier with them. The tunes are composed so that they offer a reasonable sight-reading and performance challenges, but are not so challenging as to be frustrating. When I complete this set, I will definitely be seeking the next level - well worth the money for you and your budding pianist.

Very fun early intermediate book. It makes you sound better than you are (:

All of my students love this book! Mier does a great job arranging it for young students. It's a ton of fun to play!

Martha Mier is so musical. She has woven charming pieces representing Jazz, Rags and Blues styles. I will be purchasing Book 2 as well.

Rhythmically difficult. It works for kids that want a break from classical music. A lot of fun. This stuff is not for a beginner though.
